

Registration for Co-Laborers
International Orthodox Theological Association (IOTA)

Co-Laborers are organizations working in the vineyard with IOTA (1 Cor. 3), seeking to serve as instruments of church renewal. IOTA created the Co-Laborer membership for nonprofit or equivalent organizations, including seminaries, in order to showcase their worthy endeavors at conferences, further their good work, and allow them a venue for cooperation and fruitful discourse among themselves. The fee for Co-Laborer Organizations is $325 in advance of each four-year IOTA mega-conference.

Benefits of Co-Laborer membership include:

- Participation in our IOTA Organizations Session at each megaconference;
- The ability to organize paper sessions at megaconferences, subject to the approval of the IOTA Secretary
- The license to distribute and display materials about the mission and initiatives of the Co-Laborer organization at IOTA conferences; and
- Gratitude from IOTA for cooperation in our work.

In order to work alongside IOTA as an official Co-Laborer organization, complete this form and return to the IOTA secretary, Dr. Carrie Frederick Frost (secretary@iota-web.org). Once she approves your application, you will then be billed the Co-Laborer fee.
