

CALL FOR PAPERS

NICAEA

and the Church of the Third Millennium: Towards Catholic-Orthodox Unity

International Conference • Rome, 4 - 8 June 2025

The Council of Nicaea (325) is foundational for Orthodox-Catholic unity. The Council inaugurated a synodal way of addressing theological and canonical issues at the universal level. The Nicene Creed provided a theological vision of the triune God that continues to guide the common faith of Christians, in particular, of the Orthodox and Catholic Churches. The conference will focus on uniting and dividing theological and ecclesiological issues by discussing the legacy of the First Ecumenical Council.

Confirmed Speakers Include:

Rev. Prof. Khaled Anatolios | Prof. Lewis Ayres | Prof. Mark DelCogliano
Prof. George Demacopoulos | Rev. Dr. Fr. Hyacinthe Destivelle
Prof. Paul Gavrilyuk | Rev. Prof. Cyril Hovorun | Prof. Dimitrios Keramidas
Prof. Young Kim | Cardinal Kurt Koch | Dr. Georgios Kordis
Dr. Andrej Jevtić | Prof. Matthew Levering | Bishop Kyrillos (Los Angeles)
Prof. David Luy | Prof. Bruce Marshall | Rev. Prof. Amphilochos Miltos
Prof. Irina Paert | Prof. Aristotle Papanikolaou | Ms. Katerina Pekridou
Metropolitan Job of Pisidia | Rev. Dr. Mark S. Smith
Prof. Richard Swinburne | Prof. Julija Naett Vidovic
Rev. Prof. Thomas Joseph White | Prof. Dr. Myriam Wijlens
Archbishop Rowan Williams | Prof. Gayle Woloschak

To submit your paper proposal by 1 March 2024, visit iota-web.org/Rome2025/ or scan this QR code:

Co-organized by the International Orthodox Theological Association (IOTA) and the Institute for Ecumenical Studies of the Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas (Angelicum)